

☐ 0 copies

☐ 1 copies

Figure 1 displays four grayscale images arranged in a 2x3 grid. The top row shows the original image (a) and its corresponding binary mask (b). The bottom row shows the original image (c) and its corresponding binary mask (d). The masks are binary representations of the digit, with white pixels on a black background.

